Go Green (on Green)!

These days, even vivid colors can act as neutrals.

In this 1920s Spanish Colonial home library, inspired by filmmaker Wes Anderson's eccentric aesthetic, designers Rachel Alcorn and Karen Javier of Two Hands Interiors layered verdant shades, starting with the wallpaper. "The client fell in love with its vibrancy and whimsy," says Alcorn. Plus, the surrounding bookshelves create a frame-like border for the wallpaper's bold print, making it "almost act like art."
